Sudden Outbreak of Pyrotech nics Was Feature of Market Yesterday.

CAUSE NOT VERY APPARENT

Advance Was Probably Due to Expectation of Decision in Northern Securities Case.

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, aJn. 28.—The sudden out-break of pyrotechnics in the group of stocks, which is sensitive to development the Northern Securities case, was the feature of the stock market to-day and this iccurred late in the last hour of the market. Union Pacafic was the central which had held it below 120 and was rushed up to 121 7-8. The transactions or the rise were in enormous volume. St. Paul responded vigorously and sensa-tiintl advances were made by Great Northern preferred and the Chicago and Northern preferred and the Christophern Securi-ties itself in the curb market was rushed ties itself in the curb market was rushed up several points above its previous highest price to the neighborhood of 165. There were very large transactions in Erie throughout the seasion, but that stock encountered very heavy profit taking. It has been the professed expectation for several days past that the decision of the Supreme Court in the Northern Securities case would be handed down at Washington on Monday. Beyond this there was nothing to explain the excitement regarding these stocks. The tone of the general market showed strength, but by no means in the same degree as in this special group. The strength and activity of a large number ofy obscure industrials was still a feature to-day. Outside of the buoyancy in the transcentinental group, the market closed slightly irregular. Total sales of bonds, par value, $5,40,000.

Total sale stocks to-day were 701,200 shares.

Danville Tobacco Market.

Danville Tobacco Market.

Danville Va., Jan. 28, 1965.

Messrs. Dibrell Bros. In their week review of the Danville market say:
On Tuesday and Wednesday our sales were the largest we have had since the helidays, but the unusually cold snap of the helidays, but the the helidays of the helidays the helidays to the same the helidays and free helidays and helidays to the same the helidays and helidays the helidays and the helidays and the helidays the helidays the helidays the helidays the helidays the helidays as a very good purchase. When decline in the prices on cetten market the decline in the helidays, the helidays the continues the helidays the continues the helidays. There continues to be considerable trading in round lots of old tobacco of various grades, and the stocks helid by dealers are being diminished. However, there is still helid here by our dealers a good assortment of desymble tobaccos.

BARON PAUL DE LAUNY. Bonds of Union Between the United States and France.

United States and France.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WILLIAMSBURG, VA., Jan. 28.—A few evenings ago Baron Paul De Launay, a native of Paris, France, delivered a lecture at William and Mary Colloge upon "Paris—Ancient and Modern." A few thoughts from his address follow:
France, a part of the Gaul of Caesar's day, took its name from the Franks, who planted thomselves there under Clovis in 481 A. D. King Clovis, shortly after taking possession of the country, made Paris the seat of his authority. This city took its name from the Parisit, who inhibited the island of Lutetia, in the River Scine.
